IKO POLIMAR

IKO Polimar liquid applied roofing systems have significant advantages. They are seamless, provide a lasting barrier to water penetration, do not embrittle and are highly resistant to sunlight. IKO Polimar is suitable for warm or cold roofs whether the roof is flat, inverted, green or profiled/pitched.

They are applied by brush, roller or spray and are easily moulded around upstands and other awkward areas.

When used in upgrading work, it is not always necessary to strip away existing failed roofing materials. So there is no need to protect the building while the roof is exposed to the elements and there is no disruption to normal routines carried out within the building.

IKO Polimar comes with a 5, 10, 15 or 20 year guarantee which covers materials, design and workmanship via a IKO specification, when installed by a IKO Polimar approved contractor.
